

3rd International
SKIPTON PUPPET FESTIVAL

25th - 27th September 2009

with:

www.skiptonpuppetfestival.co.uk

Welcome to the 3rd International Skipton Puppet Festival. Thanks to our many sponsors we are delighted to bring you more than 60 performances in 10 venues over 3 days. This includes an exciting variety of options for all ages.

Enjoy the poetic beauty of "The Ugly Duckling" from Russia, the razzmatazz of "Puppet Parade", the exquisite smallness of "Stop", or the mind bendingly ridiculous "Dangerous Dave".

From the traditional to the unexpected, we are sure you will find much to delight you. Enjoy the buzz at the Promenade (Festival Hub-site) which has a packed programme of short shows, free acts and a 'Continental Market'. Don't forget to catch exhibitions at The Narrow Boat and Craven Museum and workshops at the Town Hall.

Whether you are 3 or 93, come along, bring your imagination and enjoy the magic.

Liz Lempen, Festival Director

FESTIVAL OPENING

with
Cusan Theatre Productions
& Mikropodium

Come and join us for the opening, no embarrassing long speeches we promise, perhaps a short sweet one, and a very warm welcome.

First we will be serenaded by the one and only big headed "Bailadora" and then delighted by the little stars of "Stop".

... and after that? The panorama of the festival will open out. The choice is yours!

STREET THEATRE

MIKROPODIUM
Budapest, Hungary

STOP!

The smallest stage can give the greatest impression. András Lénárt with his "micro-podium" charms people around the world with exquisite puppetry.

"Stop" is a collection of short wordless vignettes that will make your day!

Enjoy a Master at work!

MIMIKA THEATRE
Leeds, UK

SMALL WORLDS

What could a bug, a fox, a goose, a cat and a small girl have in common? - They saw the sun rise, and by the time it had set they had all entered a much bigger world.

A non-verbal performance for young audiences, presented inside a white canvas dome with integrated live action, puppetry and digital animation. This is something very, very special.

CLYDEBUILT PUPPET THEATRE

Fife, Scotland

A STITCH IN TIME

When I was a little girl I used to go and visit my grandmother. There was always the sound of a clock ticking in the corner. The clock came to me from my grandmother, along with a pair of scissors, a glove and her sewing skills.

We follow Rowena through time from a shop to an Irish mountain to a cottage, exploring each with puppets, objects and a passion for embroidery.

A show about the wonderful things we get from our parents and how we pass them on to our children!

THEATER DAWA

Berlin, Germany

THE BRAVE LITTLE TAILOR

The little Tailor has made it. He's King! Married the Princess and now reigns over half a Kingdom. But how did it all come to this? He remembers his life-changing journey. The first "heroic" act of swatting seven flies, but then came the giants, wild boars and other dangers! And so he became a good and fair King - like the ones we know from Fairytales.

Daniel Wagner will perform this award winning tale for the first time in the UK. We can't wait!

LE COLPORTEUR DE VIE

Le Colporteur de Vie travels the ancient paths of time and arrives out of Nature carrying a suitcase. In the suitcase is a dream that transports him in his life. His burden is heavy but inside him lives something that will help him. In his heart he has the help of innocence.

An experience that leaves you wanting to protect the child within.

Continental market traders wearing traditional costumes, from France, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Holland and Poland, will bring you a variety of international flavours to complement the Festival.

Come and tickle your taste buds between shows or find something to take home. Brittany biscuits, Swedish cider, olives, Italian nougat, saucissons, pungent cheeses, tartiflette from the Alps, breads, croissants and local crafts next to the Festival Hub-site.

SCOPITONE

Lorient, France

Cédric Hinguët brings us the story of a fragile character in a crumbling and destructive universe. The show does not mean to find an answer but rather to invite an audience to share its opinion on the manner of how to donate one's spirit and/or one's person to the world.

"Kamikaze?" aims to be a reflection on the value of life and the sometimes radical decisions that it forces us to take. A manipulable story for a manipulating world.

PEGGY - The Laundry Child

Irene Iron irons on her ironing board.

She irons mountains and valleys of washing... until someone climbs out from between the sheets.

She tries hard to smooth out bumps, neaten edges and make things right, but everything goes wrong!

A play about love and feeling comfortable, with one puppet, one actress, one musician, one ironing board and much laundry, for people from 3 to 103 years.

"There was so much infectious laughter bubbling around the room, the little ones nearly laughed their socks off!"

SKIPTON SKIPPERS

Get jigging with the "Skipton Skippers".

Jig dolls are being revived in Skipton as part of a school & community project organised with SWADFAS, 'Extended Schools' and Skipton Girls' High School.

So what are Jig dolls?

These jigging puppets have been a popular street entertainment for centuries. Normally carved and loose limbed, controlled on a board by one horizontal string or rod, these erratically frisking figures have been seen throughout Europe, Asia and Africa.

See them demonstrated and doing a group jig on Saturday and Sunday alongside their Folk Art cousins: "Flagcrackers of Craven".

(Saturday only)

Learn more about Jig Dolls by visiting the exhibition at the Craven Museum from August - September.

THE UGLY DUCKLING

The ensemble interprets Andersen's tale with table-top puppets. The animals are reduced to their characteristic features and particular ways of moving. The language is their own. Their natural sounds convincingly tell the story, because the director, scenographer and puppeteers really know their trade.

This is sublime puppetry. The essence of this story is captured in it's purest form.

Visual poetry!

The Ugly Duckling

WALTER WILKINSON

(Exhibition at The Narrow Boat)

Puppeteer and writer Walter Wilkinson 1889-1970, wandered through Yorkshire during the late 1920s performing his hand puppets. In 1931 he wrote "Puppets in Yorkshire", a record of the trip, containing a social commentary on the way he saw the world changing in that era. It was in a time of financial crisis and when the world was moving towards greater industrialisation, away from the more simple values by which he aimed to live.

This exhibition also charts the journey by bicycle of Gil Richardson in Summer 2009, as she follows the route of Walter Wilkinson in an attempt to see how much things have changed. Gil's photographs of people and places en route are displayed with the vibrant landscapes of Philip Spellacy MA, a visual artist who has also performed as a puppeteer for 40 years, and set out to record his own unique vision of the journey.

This project was undertaken to support the work of the York & North Yorkshire Community Foundation .

"FACES IN SPACES"

Festival Competition

Stretch the muscle of your imagination and look around for faces in spaces!

Perhaps a cloud, a stone or the shape of a mechanical object. People can make funny faces, but so can things. They don't tell about it though, they wait to be discovered.

When you find an interesting face in a space, take a photograph and email to the festival.

The only rules are that the face must be discovered and not created for the photograph.

The best will be seen on screens during the Festival weekend. The winning face will receive a wonderful prize of a meal for 4 at The Narrow Boat Pub and Free Tickets to the show of your choice.

Final Date to enter competition:

18th September 09
